FROM THE UBUNTU BRAND GUIDELINES

Pictograms

(Below) are a few examples of our pictograms. They mirror the circular aspect of both the CoF and the Canonical logo. We use them in both print and on the web. They are used to represent a word or an idea.

Colours

You can use the pictograms in any of the three colours. Never mix the colours together. Use orange for Ubuntu, aubergine for Canonical and the warm grey for any neutral environment.

Creating new icons - Guiding principles

When creating new icons we have some guiding pinciples:

1. The style is very simple and graphic
2. Avoid duplication
3. The main element is the circle
4. Use one of the three colours, but only one in each individual pictogram
5. Use the pictograms (below) as reference
